

2012 GTTR Apply

Declaration

Please read this declaration and tick the box to confirm that you accept its terms, so we can process your application. You must tick the box to confirm that you accept the terms of the declaration, otherwise we cannot accept or process your application. This means that you agree to our general terms and conditions for use of the GTTR website, the privacy policy and the terms of the declaration as follows:

a. The information you supply

If we, or a training provider, have any reason to believe that you or your referee have:

- left out any information, including any qualifications you have completed, qualifications with an unsuccessful grade or qualifications for which you are still awaiting results.
- given false or misleading information.
- supplied a personal statement, or parts of a personal statement, that you have not written yourself.

we may take any necessary steps to check with you and other parties whether it is accurate or complete.

We have the right to cancel your application without giving you your application fee back, if we determine or (having carried out any necessary checks) or have reasonable belief that your application contains false information or you have not written your personal statement yourself.

If you have any reason to believe that information we have about you is not accurate or complete, you must tell us.

b. Your personal statement

Your personal statement must be your own work. We will carry out checks to verify that your personal statement is your own work.

If your personal statement appears to have been copied from another source we will inform the training providers to which you have applied. They will then take the action they consider appropriate.

c. Misuse of credit or debit card

If you pay your application fee using a credit or debit card that you do not have permission to use, we will cancel your application.

We may also cancel your application if your payment is not honoured ie a bank or credit card provider refuses to pay us.

d. If we need more information about you

We, and the training providers, may, at any time, ask you, your referee or your employer to provide more information about your application. For example, we may need to see proof of:

- your identity.
- your status.

- your qualifications.
- your employment history.

If we do not receive that information by a set date, or if the information is not satisfactory, we can cancel your application without giving you your application fee back. If your application is cancelled, you will not be able to submit another application for entry in 2012.

e. How many places can you have?

If you make an application through more than one of our application schemes (GTTR, the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS) or the Conservatoires UK Admissions Service (CUKAS)), you may find yourself with more than one confirmed place.

If this happens we will ask you to accept one and withdraw from any others.

f. Your contract

Your application is a contract between you, us and the relevant training providers. No one else can enforce any part of this contract under the terms of the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 or any other legislation.

g. If we make a mistake

We try to process applications and decisions efficiently and accurately. However, to the extent permitted by law, we will not be liable to you for any mistakes or delays, or any loss or damage suffered by you as a result of any mistakes or delays, or if the training providers change their decisions later.

h. What the training provider expects from you

If you accept an offer of a place from a training provider, you must accept the terms and conditions in their prospectus or in the contract they send you at the same time as or before you accept the offer.

You must read these terms and conditions carefully. They may allow the training provider to change or withdraw an offer of a place. If you have any questions about those terms and conditions, you should ask the training provider before you accept any offer of a place.

If the place is at an associated college, and you accept it, you may also have to follow the terms and conditions of its partner institution.

i. If the course cannot be offered

If you become a student, under your contract with the training provider, the institution must do all they can to provide the educational services described in their prospectus. If the training provider is unable to provide these services for any reason, they must do all they can to keep the disruption to your education as small as possible.

j. Criminal convictions

You must have undergone a criminal records check through the Criminal Records Bureau or the Scottish Criminal Record Office before you can start your first teaching placement. You might also be asked to cooperate with other checks which come into force in England, Wales and Northern Ireland at any time during the application process or later. If you are taking a teacher training course in Scotland, you will need to comply with any requirements of the Protecting Vulnerable Groups (PVG) scheme.

k. Cancelling your application

You have the right to cancel your whole application. If you let us know within seven days of the date on our official welcome letter to you, we will refund your application fee. To do this, please contact our Customer Service Unit.

If you want to cancel your application after seven days, you can use Track at www.gttr.ac.uk or call our Customer Service Unit. Your application fee will not be refunded. View the Contact us page on our website.

I. Obtaining your consent

From time to time, as set out in this declaration, our privacy policy or otherwise in connection with your application, we will obtain your consent before we proceed with certain matters. We will always obtain your consent by you ticking on the appropriate checkboxes.

Data Protection Act

UCAS seeks to comply with the terms of the Data Protection Act 1998 in all respects.

You confirm that the information you have given is complete and accurate. When you agree to the terms of use of the application scheme, you consent to the processing of your personal data (as defined by the Data Protection Act 1998) by the UCAS Group of Companies and educational establishments in accordance with our privacy policy and as set out below.

This means that you accept that:

- a. we will share the details of your application with the training providers to which you apply at any time during the application cycle so that they can consider it.
- b. we may use details in your application to verify your identity by means of official, publically available or commercially available identity checking services. If any adverse information is revealed about you will have the opportunity to provide an explanation.
- c. we may keep a copy of your application and use the information to collect and publish statistics or monitor equal opportunities (or both). No published information will identify you as an individual.
- d. we may use or disclose information on your application for research and monitoring purposes, but no information that could identify you as an individual will be published.
- e. we may cooperate with, and may share your personal data with banks, other organisations and their agents about any products and services which you apply for, by checking on your identity and status as a GTTR applicant, or an accepted applicant, and the commencement date and duration of your study.
- f. we will, if appropriate, share information with relevant professional and/or regulatory bodies in connection with enquiries relating to ultimate fitness to practise.
- g. we will correspond with your exam board or awarding organisation about your results and in connection with any survey they undertake or commission on their behalf.
- h. if your application includes material that appears to have been copied from another source, we may notify the training providers to which you have applied. Where you request us to do so, we may (but are not obliged) to enter into dialogue with those parties with a view to resolving the matter.
- i. we will supply details from your application and associated examination results to the Higher Education Statistics Agency.
- j. we will share your personal data with other companies in the UCAS Group, who (with your consent) may use it to keep you informed by electronic means, or (unless you object) may use it to keep you informed by other means of information, services and products that they think are relevant to you as a student.
- k. we will share information from your application with government departments responsible for skills funding in the UK.

- i. we will share your personal data with the Training and Development Agency for Schools (TDA) who may use this to keep you informed of any information, services and products that they think are of relevance to you.
